

Chad S. Boyd

---

Dr. Chad Boyd has made exceptional strides in rangeland research for an early career scientist. He has been able to focus on high impact issues, specifically riparian management, water quality, and sage-grouse habitat. He has the vision to conduct very relevant research and the energy and intellect to see that the research is delivered to the managers and policy-makers who need the information.