

Lance Vermeire

Dr. Lance Vermeire, USDA-ARS Fort Keogh Livestock and Range Research Laboratory, Miles City, MT is being honored for outstanding contributions to the rangeland management profession through the conduct of a highly relevant and effective research program, in concert with a highly visible and effective technology transfer program, and for continued superior service to the Society for Range Management.